LEADING TECHNOLOGY

For more than 40 years, LDA Audio Tech has been designing and manufacturing the most advanced sound equipments for public address, background music and voice alarm systems from its headquarters in Málaga (Spain).

We work with installers, integrators and distributors in 50 countries to provide them with the customised solutions that they need in AV systems for security and fire protection.

Our specialised engineering and technical team works constantly to stay up-to-date with the latest technology. That is why we are active participants in the international committees that establish the regulations about voice evacuation, at the same time as we are offering training to all our partners worldwide.

LDA Audio Tech guarantees a solid structure and a committed team for any large-scale project anywhere in the world.
